

Morgan Hill Community Foundation Celebrates Outstanding Philanthropists and Volunteers

The Morgan Hill Community Foundation (MHCF) welcomes a wide range of philanthropists and volunteers to be honored at this year’s annual philanthropy celebration, scheduled for Nov. 9, at the Morgan Hill Community & Cultural Center. This year’s theme, “Celebrating People & Philanthropy in Our Community,” focuses attention on people who make such an important difference to the nonprofit organizations that they support. MHCF will showcase each honoree equally for outstanding contributions, exemplifying generosity, selflessness and, sometimes, sacrifice.

Philanthropy Night honorees come from any nonprofit in Morgan Hill that wishes to honor a person, company or group that has made a significant contribution to the nonprofit in the current calendar year. A participating nonprofit may select its honoree based on many possible reasons, including a person/group has volunteered for many hours or provided financial support. The nonprofits determine the criteria appropriate for its group, thereby making it a fair consideration no matter how small or large the nonprofit is. It is a fun evening when the community can celebrate together, with the evening all culminating as greater than the sum of the parts that go into hosting the event.

By supporting the honorees, philanthropy, and the MHCF through this event, guests are directly contributing to the Foundation's grants and philanthropy programs in the coming year, as well as continuing the MHCF's ability to serve as a fiscal sponsor to so many great nonprofits in town.
